God's punishment – Karoor Soman, Charummood

Prayers could be heard loud and clear from the London church. The prayers were aimed at the Covid-19 pandemic that had hindered people's normal way of life. Sitting outside the church was Susan and Cicily. They spoke about the bizarre thinking of people gathered inside. Cicily pointed out that the act of screaming so loud that the throat cracks, is no solution to the pandemic.

This is God's punishment. The fact that it made even churches close down proves that. No amount of screaming is going to change that.

On reaching home, Susan told her husband that she would like to go back to Kerala after Corona dies down. She also let him know that the old plates and cutlery that they used in the house, had to be packed up and taken back to Kerala. She planned on selling them in Kerala. She also planned on buying new ones as replacement from Kerala.
